You have requested that we permit you to access an electronic funds transfer system and (if applicable) that we issue you an automated teller card, debit card, code or other device ("Card"). By requesting, receiving, signing, using, authorizing another to use or otherwise accepting the Card (including any replacement or substitute Card) or the electronic funds transfer system, you and any authorized users, agree to be bound by this Agreement. The electronic funds transfer system and the Card are collectively referred to in this Agreement as the "EFT System." This Agreement applies to all persons that are party to the accounts that are accessed through the EFT system. Every person who owns or is authorized to use the accounts is responsible for the: use of the EFT System. In this Agreement, the terms "you" and "your" refer to each party to the account and to each authorized user, and the terms "us," "we," and "our" refer to the Bank. You agree to safely keep the Card and PIN, not to record the PIN on the Card or otherwise disclose or make it available to anyone other than an authorized user, and to use the Card and PIN only at terminals that accept the Card and as instructed. You can lose no more than $50 if someone used your Card and PIN without your permission to obtain money, property or services through an automatic teller machine or point of sale terminal, and in the case of Visa@ or MasterCard@ debit cards, your liability may be less pursuant to applicable Visa or MasterCard debit card rules. two business days after you learn of the loss or theft of your Card and we can prove we could have stopped someone from using your Card without your permission if you had told us, you could lose as much as $ 50.00. Also, if your statement shows transfers that you did not make, including those made by Card, code or other means, tell us at once. If you do not tell us within 60 days after the statement was mailed to you, you may not get back any money you lost after the 60 days if we can prove that we could have stopped someone from taking the money if you had told us in time. If a good reason (such as a long trip or a hospital stay) kept you from telling us, we will extend the time periods.

- if the transfer would go over the credit limit on your overdraft credit plan, if any. - if the terminal where you are making the transfer does not have enough cash.
- if the terminal or transfer system was not working properly and you knew about the breakdown when you started the transfer.
- if circumstances beyond our control (such as fire or flood) prevent the transfer despite reasonable precautions that we have taken.
- if incomplete or inaccurate information is forwarded by the U.S. Treasury or through an automated clearing house.

22. Foreign Currency Conversion and International Fees. If you use your Card or account for a transaction in a foreign country, the transaction amount will be converted to U.S. currency. Depending on whether you use a VISA or MasterCard debit card, VISA or MasterCard may do the conversion. If the transaction is processed by VISA, VISA will use a currency conversion rate it selects from the range of rates available in wholesale currency markets for the day prior to the central processing date of the transaction or the government-mandated rate in effect for the day prior to the central processing date. If the transaction is converted by MasterCard, MasterCard will use either a government-mandated exchange rate or a wholesale exchange rate. The rate MasterCard uses for a particular transaction is the rate MasterCard selects for the applicable currency on the day the transaction is processed. The rate used to convert a particular transaction may differ from the rate VISA or MasterCard itself receives and may differ from the rate applicable on the date the transaction occurred or was posted to your account. In addition, a currency conversion assessment equal to a percentage of the transaction amount debited to your account may be charged and you agree to pay such currency conversion assessment, if any, identified in the Schedule of Fees and Charges. You agree to pay charges and accept credits for the converted transaction in accordance with these terms, the Schedule of Fees and Charges and the then current applicable VISA or MasterCard rules. Charges that are based on a percentage of the amount of the transaction will be calculated on the transaction amount in U.S. Currency. If a transaction is made in a foreign country or with a merchant in a foreign country, you may be charged a fee equal to a percentage of the transaction amount debited to your account in United States dollars, and you agree to pay this International transaction fee, if any, identified in the Schedule of Fees and Charges.
